THE YANKEE AND SLEEPY DAVY.

The following story extracted from the forthcoming work of "A Yankee among the Nullifiers," purports to be told to another by a South Carolinian:

The Yankees, as I said before, are apt to be too cute for us in everything but horse-flesh, and even sometimes in that. It was this day three years ago, and on this very spot, that I entered my horse Southron for a purse of two thousand. He had won a like sum the year before with all ease—In short he was the best horse at that time in South Carolina. There were, to be sure, two other horses and very fine ones too, entered against him, but they were no touch to Southron, and I was as sure of winning as I am of sitting here at this moment—when who should come along but a d——d yankee, with a tin cart! He had the shabbiest, worst looking horse you ever put your eyes on. He was lean, slab-sided, crooked legged, rough-haired son of a gun, as ever went on four legs. He stood all the time as if he was asleep—in fact his owner called him sleepy Davy.—In short sir, he was such a horse as would have brought twenty dollars.

It was near the hour of starting, when the pedlar whose exterior corresponded marvellously with that of his horse, and who said his name was Zadock Barber, to the astonishment of all, intimated a wish to enter his horse with the rest.

"Your horse!" exclaimed I—"what that sleepy looking devil there?—You'd better enter him for the turkey buzzards."

'Not as you knows on, mister,' resumed the Yankee with some show of spirit. 'To be sure the critter looks rather sleepy as he stands, and on that account I call him Sleepy David, but he's a jo-fi'd smart horse for all that. He's like a singed cat, a darned sight better nor he looks. I should like tarnation well to try him against some of your South Carolina hosses. To be sure I don't come all the way from home on purpose, but as I was coming out this way with a load of tin and other notions, I thought I might time it so as to kill two birds with one stone, for, thinks I to myself, if I can win the purse and peddle off my notions at the same time I shall make a plaguey good spec. But I had to hurry on like the nation to get here in season; and that's one reason that my hoss looks so shabby and out of fix this morning. But for all that he'll perform like d-y's work, I tell you.'

Supposing he had no idea of running his horse, and that all he said was merely to gratify his propensity for talking I bade d——d Yankee palaver.

'Why, mister,' said he, 'this is a free country, and a man has a right to talk or let it alone, jist as he can afford. Now I've taken a great deal of pains to get here this morning in order to run Sleepy David against some of your Southern horses. I aint joking sir, I am in airnest. I understand there is a purse of two thousand dollars, and I should like amazingly to pick it up.'

'You talk of picking up a purse of two thousand dollars with that bit of carion of yours? Away with you, and don't trouble us any further.'

'Well, if I can't run, I suppose I can't but it's darned hard any how for a man to take so much pains as I have to come to the races, and then can't be allowed to run arter all.'

'It's too late now; by the rules of the course the horse should have been entered yesterday; however if you'll plank the entrance money, perhaps you may get in yet.'

I said this by way of getting rid of the fellow, having no idea he could command the fourth part of the sum required.

'How much might the entrance money be?' drawing out a purse containing a few shillings in silver and a few pence in copper.

'If it ain't mor'n a quarter of a dollar, or so, I'll plank it on the nail.'

'It is two hundred dollars.'

'Two hundred!' exclaimed the Yankee.

'By gauley what a price! Why, they axed me only twenty-five cents to see the Elephant and the hull Caravan in New York. Two hundred dollars! Why, you must be joking now—Bless me! my hull load of tin ware, hoss, wagon and all, would'nt fetch that. But mister don't you think I could get in for ten dollars?'

'Nothing short of the two hundred, and that must be paid within five minutes.'

We now thought we had got fairly rid of the fellow; but he returned to the charge and asked if fifty dollars would'nt do, then seventy, then a hundred, and finding he could not make a bargain for less than the regular sum, he engaged to give it provided he could find any one to loan him the money, for which he offered to pawn his wagon load of notions and Sleepy David to boot. He asked one, then another to accommodate him with a loan—declaring that as soon as ever he took the purse the money should be returned, and he would give a dozen tin whistles into the bargain. He however got more curses than coppers, until some wag who had plenty of cash and liked to see the sport go on, lent him the two hundred dollars out of sheer malice. Though as it afterwards turned out, the Yankee had plenty of money about him, and was merely playing 'possum' all the while.

His next object was to borrow a saddle. In this he was also accommodated; and taking Sleepy David from the tin cart, he scrambled upon his back, and took his station on the course. You never saw a fellow sit on a horse so awkward in your life. Every one said he would fall before he had gone a hundred yards—and some out of compassion urged him to withdraw.

'Not by a darned sight,' exclaimed he. 'Do you think I am such a darned fool as to pay two hundred dollars, and then withdraw and not run arter all?'

Others who wanted to see the sport though it should cost some broken bones, encouraged him to proceed, saying, as they laughed aloud, that they had no doubt, but he would carry off the purse.

'That's what I mean to do,' said he.—'I hain't come here for nothing I can tell you. Wake up, Sleepy David, and look about you; you must have your eyes open to-day, its no time to be snoozin' when there is money at stake.'

The horse, as if he understood what his master was saying opened his eyes, picked up his ears, and actually began to show signs of life.

The signal was now to given to start. Away sprung Southron, with the speed of lightening and away sprang the other Southern horses leaving Sleepy David far in the rear, and the pedler verging from side to side, as if he was just ready to fall off.—The horse went pawing along with his tail clinging to his hauuches, and his nose stuck out straight before him; and you never beheld so queer a figure cut by any man and horse as this singular pair at that time presented.

But they improved as they proceeded; the peddler sat more jockey like, and the horse evidently gained upon the others—But it would not do. He came in at least half a mile behind Southron and but a little less behind the others.

It was now thought the Yankee had enough of the race and would withdraw before the next heat. Contrary to all expectation however, he persevered; and offered to bet a thousand dollars on the issue of the race.

'The fellows a fool,' said one.

'He dont know which side of his bread is buttered, or else he would'nt risk any more money on so desperate a stake.'

'He is safe enough there,' said a third, 'for he has no more to risk.'

Here however, all were mistaken again, for the peddler hauled out an old greasy pocket book and planked the thousand dollars. It was covered of course. But I confess I now began to be staggered; and to suspect the Yankee was, after all more rogue than fool. I had no fears however, for the purse. Southron was not a horse to be distanced in one day, and especially by such a miserable devil as Sleepy David.

The second heat was now commenced; and if I had before felt confident in the superiority of my noble Southron, that confirm [illegible] ered the purse as now my own property.—In imagination I had grasped it, and was about putting it safely in my pocket, when—lo! and behold! the peddler's horse which was behind all the rest, suddenly shot forward as if the devil had kicked him; and stretching his neck like a crane, won the heat by a head!

Everybody was astonished. 'That horse must be the devil himself,' said one. 'At least he has the devil to back him,' said a third, 'I was sure he would play some Yankee trick before he got through.' Such were the observations that passed from mouth to mouth.

The Yankee in the meantime, offered to take another thousand dollar bet; but nobody felt disposed to bet; and it was well that they didn't for at the third heat Sleepy David not only distanced every horse but even came in a full quarter of a mile ahead of Southron himself.

'There, by golly,' said the Yankee, as he dismounted, 'I'll take that ere purse if you please, and the other cool thousand tew. I knowed well that your southern hosses couldn't hold a candle tew old Sleepy David."

Foreign News.

Charles Mackay, the well known author, is preparing to pay a visit to the United States and Canada.

The quarterly meeting of the English ironmasters of the vicinity began at Wolverhampton on April 8th. The prospects of the trade were looked on as more promising than for some time past, and a buoyant spirit prevaded the whole meeting.

Information has reached England that upwards of 10,000 Norwegians will proceed from Norway to Quebec during the present summer. Several of these will remain in Canada, but the larger portion will pass to the North Western States of America. Sir Cusack Roney has left England for Christiana, to make arrangements for the transit of these persons from Quebec to their destination, and also to disseminate information with reference to Canada on behalf of the government.

Changes in the Sweedish tariff are anticipated in favor of free trade.

The Military Gazette of Turin announces that an army corps of 20,000 men is about to be concentrated at Alexandria, close on the frontier of Lombardy. The Austrian counsels, however, have received orders from Vienna not to quit their posts, which indicates, certainly, a prospect of speedy adjustment of the difficulties.

An emigration fever is now raging at Tyrol and many of the mountaineers have gone to Peru, because the Ultramontane keepers of their consciences have told them that no good Catholics ought to pitch their tents in countries which, like America, are principally inhabited by Protestants. The increasing desire to emigrate is said to give serious annoyance to the government.

LOVE.

Love is a sparkling ray from heaven,
That sometimes is to mortals given,
To cheer their weary way.
Ye fainting souls hush up your sighs,
And with glad hearts, seize the bright prize,
It opes bright visions in the skies,
When life doth fade away.

Love is a song that's tuned above,
By seraph's harps, and angels love—
Doth't in thy heart vibrate?
New joys, new hopes, fill the full heart,
New life its strength, its powers impart,
Makes e'en dread death forget its smart,
When love doth consecrate.

Strike all your harps, ye heavenly choirs,
Immortal saints with golden lyres,
And angels round the throne;
Together sweet your voices blend,
As towards the mercy-seat you tend
Your willing steps, in love to bend,
To the All-Holy One.

Love is an angel, robed in white,
With wings of purple, rosy light,
That ministers to thee;
He gently wipes 'way every tear,
He quickly calms thy every fear,
'Mid every trouble always near,
To bless and comfort thee.

All heaven is love—and more and more,
The increasing soul, when life's dull shore
Is passed, shall learn to enjoy,
The rapturous joys of heavens scenes,
The calm delights of holier themes.
Than ever entered angel's dreams,
In heaven's sweet employ.

Origin of the Late Indian Troubles.

The St. Paul Times says that the late murderous outbreak of the Indians was caused by the following trivial circumstance:

A body of Indians were passing a white settlement near Spirit Lake, when a dog belonging to the tribe bit a white man.—The man fired his gun at the dog and killed it, whereupon the Indians became incensed. That night the whites entered the tepees of the Indians, took away their guns and gave them a severe whipping. The Indians next morning rallied, came down upon the whites with all their savage brutality, and the report says, murdered 42 persons, men, women and children. Not satisfied with the blood they spilt at Spirit Lake, they devastated the country on their march, and added new victims to their reeking and blood stained weapons of

We learn from another [illegible] report of the Indian massacre at Mankato, Minnesota, have been greatly exagerated. The St. Paul Pioneer, of the 18th, contains a letter from General Shields, dated Farribault, April 15th, which pointedly contradicts these reports. He states that reliable information has just been received from Mankato and Blue earth county, from various sources, and all concur in saying "that there is not the slightest foundation for these rumors." The letter concludes:

"You may declare with truth, that there is neither hostility or sign of hostility amongst the Indian tribes in this Territory. Yours truly, James Shields."

The Minnesotian of the 20th confirms the above. The editor saw a gentleman directly from "the seat of war," who says not a drop of white blood has been shed upon the waters of the Blue Earth, the Watonwan or any of its branches. No hostile Indians had been nearer Mankato than Spirit Lake. The reports of murders arose from the fact, that some peacable annuity Indians went there to make sugar, and seeing fires there at night, they were imagined to be those of burning cabins. He said all the Indians were fleeing from the sugar bush to the fort for protection, scared nearly out of their skins.

Your County Paper.

The following from Fowler & Wells "Life Illustrated," is so good and to the point, that we recommend it to our friends without further comment:

"We occasionally receive letters in which the writers express their determination to stop their country or village paper, and take our publications instead. We always regret to receive such intimations.—We think a man ought to support his own paper first and then if he can afford to take a paper from a distance, let him do so, and we shall be happy to furnish him with "Life Illustrated." The county press, is in our opinion, the most important its effects on the enlightenment of the nation. It conveys in ten thousand rills, intelligence to nearly every home in the country. The country press ought to receive a cordial support. Every place should try to have its paper of such a character that people could be justly proud of it. To this end let them pay promptly, advertise liberally, recommend warmly, and in every way stand by the editor as long as they can conscientiously.

A GOOD LAW.—The Ohio Legislature passed a bill through both Houses, given married women the control of all personal property now exempt from execution, so that the husband cannot sell it from the family. It also gives her the control of the earnings of all the minor children. This will be a valuable safeguard for the wives of intemperate men. They cannot now sell the house empty, and collect the earnings of their wives and children, as was once done.

An Irishman trying to put out a gas light with his fingers, cried out, "Och, murther! there's niver a wick in it!"

Looking at the Bright Side.

Away with the long faces. What is the use of looking as if you had a season ticket for a funeral? Can't you find a better name for this world than "a vale of tears," and "scene of tribulation?" If you can't it will do you no good to read a letter which a friend has just furnished. It is from a wife in Massachusetts to her husband in California. She doesn't intend to go thro' the world with an air as if

"Muffled drums were beating
Funeral marches to the grave.

Here is the letter,

"My dear husband:—As it is some time since you left for California, I suppose you would be glad to hear how we are getting along in your absence. I am happy to say we are all enjoying good health on the whole. Just at the present two of the boys have pox, Amanda Jane has got typhus fever, Betsey is down with the measels, Samuel got hooked with the cow the other day, and little Peter has just cut off seven of his fingers with the hatchet. It's a great pity that he did not chop them all off. With these trifling exceptions, we are all well and getting along very nicely. You needn't be at all anxious about me.

'I almost forgot to say that Sarah Matilda eloped with a tin pedlar. Poor girl! she's been waiting for the last ten years for a chance, and I am glad she is married at last. She needn't have taken the trouble to elope though. She was a great eater and I find the baked beans don't go off near so fast now as they did. The way that girl would dip into the pork and beans was a caution to the rest of the family.

The cow took it into her head yesterday to run away, which was very fortunate, I'm sure for the barn caught fire and was consumed. I was in hopes that the house would go to for it's very inconvenient, but the wind was the wrong way, so it didn't receive much injury.

'Some boys broke into the orchard the other day, and stripped all the fruit trees, I am glad of it, for if they hadn't I presume the children would have made themselves sick by eating too much.

"Hoping that you enjoy yourself in California as well as we do at home, I remain your affectionate wife.

The President one of the Doomed.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday gives the following extract from a private letter from Washington, from which it would seem most likely that the President is to add one more name to the list of the [illegible]

I saw, passing [illegible] gentlemen—one of whom, although I had not seen him for over sixteen years—I almost knew to be the President. I stepped alongside, and a glance informed me that I was not mistaken. His legs are weak. A half stumble drew some remark from his companion which I did not hear. His reply was: "I am not right. My health is not recovered,' adding in a sort of begging tone, "But I am getting better. He is going, depend upon it. A few more weeks and he will be no more. A vain young orator from Kentucky will be the acting, and his friend Stephen A. Douglas the actual President of these United States.

A GOOD HIT.—A Methodist Divine of this city, on Sunday last, administered a most severe rebuke to a common custom in these days of reading advertisements from the pulpit. A paper was handed to him giving notice that "introductory lecturers of the annual course, would be delivered on Monday night,' &c., at a certain Medical institution in this city. The preacher said he had conscientious scruples against cheating the printer by making such announcements in the pupit, that he never heard such advertisement read in church without reminding him of the old deacon in Alexandria, who on a certain occasion exhorted in most earnest and vehement language the sinners in his congregation to repent or they would all go to Hell as sure as there was flour for sale in Alexandria and he was sure there was, for he had received just the day before, a fine assortment which he would sell as cheap as any man in the city.—Ohio Statesman.

FULL OF RAGE.—Mr. Roger A. Pryor, editor of the new paper in Richmond, Virginia, bearing the significant appellative 'The South'—is out in strong terms of condemation and reprobation of the New York Legislature for presuming to pass resolutions "that this State will not allow slavery within her borders, in any form, or under any pretence; and that the Spureme Court of the United States, by their late decison in the Dred Scott case, has impaired the confidence and respect of the people of the State.' Mr. Pryor thinks this is "moral treason, it its most offensive form.' Perhaps it is; but if so, we say, with Patrick Henry on a memorable occasion:—"If this be treason, I am responsible—make the most of it.'

A Person who was recently called in court for the purpose of proving the correctness of a doctor's bill, was asked by the lawyer whether "the doctor did not make several visits after the patient was out of danger?" "No," replied the witness, "I considered the patient in danger as long as the doctor continued his visits."

☞ Winchell, the humorist tells a story of a dog which undertook to jump across a well in two jumps. There are a great many people just like that dog—folks who think they can jump across a well in two jumps. They that undertake it usually "bring up down in the water."

An Old Art Revived.

A unique invention, for the manufacture of garments without seams, is now in practical operation in Massachusetts, on a considerably extensive scale. The wool as it passes through the carding manufacture, is woven upon cylenders of peculiar shape, the layers of wool crossing each other at different angles, the fibres being streched to their utmost, making a close, well woven batt, which can be formed into coat bodies; others into sleeves, pantaloons, mittens shoes, leggins and the like. Over there cylenders are drawn closely-fitting bags or coverings of cloth. The whole is then immersed in water, whence they are taken and dropped into metallic tubes heated by steam. A slight vibratory motion is there given them, which felts the wool in a few minutes, leaving, when coats are to be made, the ends of the sleeves and the armholes of coat soft. They are then joined and firmly felted together, producing a coat perfect in shape and even in texture. They are then pulled until they become firm and solid. Most of these garments are dyed in the wool before carding; those that are at this stage ready for the dyer.—Next they are dried on copper forms in the shape of men, heated by steam.—While upon these forms they go through a finishing process, which gives them the appearance of goods known as beaver cloth.

THE MORMONS.—A writer in the National Intelligencer estimates the Mormons in Utah at 100,000 persons, besides having 200,000 spies and agents scattered throughout the country, who immediately communicate the acts of the Government and the sentiments of the community to the leaders at Salt Lake. He represents them as being opposed to the Federal Goveanment, and insits upon the necessity of taking prompt and decisive measures to protect the country from the dangers which threaten it from this quarter. The writer seems to be somewhat imaginative or suspicious, for he insinuates that the secret vigilant organization in California has something to do with this Utah hostility to the Union; their secret passwords, emblems, &c., were all prominent signs of Mormonism, and nobody knew the object of the vigilant organization, but those who recognised Brighrm Young as their prophet, priest and king.

JEWS IN LONDON.—At a meeting held at Norwich, the Rev. Dr. Ewald, one of the Missionaries of the Society for Propogating the Gospel among the Jews, stated that there were now more Jews in Whitechapel than in Jerussalem, and more Jews in London than in the whole of the [illegible] and Dr. [illegible] The total number of Jews five years he had baptised [illegible] converts.

SINGULAR.—The Mississippi river has been navigable, between this city and its mouth, all winter, except about a month, while in Minnesota it is frozen as solid as ever, and no prospect of a thaw. So says the St. Louis Leader. To which the Minnesota Times replies—The Leader is astonished very easily. We do not consider it very singular, that the Father of Waters should have a cold in his head, if he insists on keeping his mouth open eleven months in a year.

STRYCHNINE IN WHISKEY.—It is said in Cincinnati that what is known as the "hog cholera" is produced by strychnine used in the manufacture of whisky, upon the slop from which the hogs are fed. A chemist gives it as his opinion that there was strychnine enough in one barrel to kill thirty men! This being the case it is surprising that so many men die in these days with delirum tremens?

THE WAY DOWNWARD.—A young man, who was in prison awaiting his trial for a serious crime, was asked what ruined him. "Sir," he replied, with tears in his eyes, "it was my street education that ruined me! I had a good home education, but I would slip out of the house and go off with the boys in the street. In the street I learned to lounge. In the street I learned to smoke. In the street I learned to gamble. In the street I learned to steal.'

"Och! mistress, dear, niver a chist did I have to put it on, but shure, ma'am, I have a hair trunk, and I stuck it on that, but niver a bit of a rise did it riz; but, ma'am, it tuk off every bit of the hair, as shure as I'm a sinner!"

A Wonderful Lead.—Some persons writting from Galena gives an account of a wonderful discovery of lead ore near Hazel Green, Wisconsin. It is considered good for six millions of pounds of mineral. The fortunate discoverer, who is an Englishman by the name of Mills, can take one hundred thousand dollars for his show as it stands.

GEN. PACKER AND THE CINCINNATI PLATFORM.

The resemblance in political character, which Gen. Packer and President Buchanan bear to each other is striking in many particulars, and has been frequently made the subject of remark. Both are intensely selfish. Both are exceedingly timid.—Both are afflicted with a lamentable coldness of heart, and both are accused of losing their friends in one extremity, and abandoning them in another. But there is another and more important similarity of condition, to which we wish to direct the attention of the reader We allude to the position both occupy in regard to the famous Cincinnati Platform. It will be remembered that Mr. Buchanan merged himself in that monstrosity—became a part of it—took upon himself the inanimate qualities—and played the "dumb uncle," during the entire Presidential campaign—The enquiring people who honestly demanded a specific declaration from the candidate himself, were coolly referred to the Platform's studied ambiguities and florid generalities, as the only answer which would be vouchsafed to them. Gen. Packer in his own way, has also mixed with this identical instrument, and we notice the circumstance at this time as a matter of reference for the future. The gentleman was a delegate to the National "Democratic" Convention, which nominated Mr. Buchanan, and when the hackneid resolutions, which constitute the platform, were reported, he affected an unusual degree of enthusiasm during their reading, and finally, on behalf of the "great North," moved their adoption without the "scratching of a word, the crossing of a t, or the dotting of an i,"—(we quote his own peculiar language) This was all very well then—but we should keep a watchful eye on Mr Packer as the campaign waxes warmer, and his condition becomes more desperate, and see that he does not fly from his position. We should remember that it was in his Assembly District, and probably under his supervision, that the "Buchanan and Free Kansas" handbills were circulated for the call of meetings, and it may be again convenient to ignore troublesome issues between this and the October election. At this time, it is true, when the embodiment of the platform has the bestowal of government positions and patronage, it is popular enough with the politicians, but the application of the "national sentiments" which it contains, to Kansas, by Walker and Staunton, may render it obnoxious to even some of Mr Packer's new neighbors.

Even at this distance of time our Republican readers will remember with indignation the course of the Democratic politicians of certain sections of the State, who endeavored to take advantage of the anti-slavery sentiment existing among their friends, by evading the Kansas issue.—They remembered well the appeal in the "Anti-Nebraska" speech of Congressman Gamble, somewhere on the west branch of the Susquehanna, at a Buchanan meeting, where the "Border Ruffians" were denounced but Buchanan and the "democratic party" extolled. They remember, too, how small politicians laughed at the honest apprehension of the true friends of Kansas, and comfortably assured us that [illegible] the situation of our opponents dem nd such efforts on their part. Let us then, be ready for this game and in the meantime hold Mr. Packer to his unqualified endorsement of the Cincinnati platform, and suffer no more artful dodges, if we can help it. Nor should we allow minor issues to divert our attention from the great question, which should only be decided with reference to the two candidates before the people—Wilmot and Packer—Pitts. Gaz

Strike of Railroad Conductors.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight conductors are on a general strike. The Baltimore papers are full of it. The Sun remarks:

The parties engaged in resistance to the company have proceeded to the extremity of violence, and a state of open warfare now exists between the civil authority of the State, the universal rights of society and the red hand of indiscriminate lawlessness There is no alternative now but the triumph of law and order or the temporary success of a band of outlaws We say "temporary," because at the best they can hope for nothing more Law and order—the authority of the company—must be sustained. One is identified with the other, and the whole affair is inseparable from the first principles of organized society.

The Baltimore American of Saturday says:

The more violent of the strikers joined by outside parties of riotously disposed persons, assaulted, stoned and fired at the burthen trains. One train, protected by a resolute and fully armed body of men succeeded in beating off the assailants and forcing its passage through the blockade.—Three other trains were stopped and forced to return to the city. The Company will to-day have such arragements completed as must at once effectually suppress the insurrection, and make those who attempt to obstruct the operations of the road suffer severely for their unlawful proceedings—The Governor of the State is prepared to act in the promptest manner, bringing if necessary, a sufficient military force into requisition to crush out every attempt at riot.

New Swindle.

The Cincinnati Commercial notices the operations of a man by the name of Mathews, who pretends to have a town in Dacotah county Minnesota Territory. He has sent circulars all over the States offering give away three thousand lots in his town to any one who will make the application. He only requires one dollar, he says, to pay for the deed. It is perhaps, needless to say that it is all a swindle, and the police of Cincinnati are on the track of the fellow. He has lately received thro' the post office hundreds of letters, indeed, so extensive had his correspondence become as to excite the suspicions of the Postmaster, when the above swindle was developed. Mr. Lawrence, Postmaster at Newville in this State, says in a letter to Dr. Vattier that he alone sent the fellow thirty dollars. This kind of Swindle, we notice, is getting quite common in the East also.

THE DRED SCOTT DECISION SET ASIDE.

We have hitherto noticed the arrest of several negroes in Chicago for stealing poultry. Their counsel, on the 18th, attempted to obtain their release from custody on the ground that, under the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the famous Dred Scott case, they were merely chattels or merchandise, and not persons, as alleged in the indictment. The plea in abatement was accordingly filed, followed by a demurrer by the State's Attorney, setting forth that the plea was insufficient to "oust the said court of jurisdiction." In support of the demurrer, the State's attorney urged that, although the defendants were really and bona fide slaves, and subject to rendition to their masters, still they are reliable to be tried and punished under our local or State laws for felonies committed by them within the State. The counsel for the defence submitted the following reason why the plea should be sustained and the demurrer overruled.

1st. That however repugnant to the ideas of the people, the opinion of the Supreme Court is the law of the land.

2d. That the demurrer admits the fact in this plea that the defendants are chattels and property.

3d. That the defendants being chattels not persons are consequently incapable of being incarcerated therefor. "A chattel cannot commit a crime—an article of merchandise cannot by and within the meaning of the law be punished, and Africans, the descendants of slaves, brought and sold, are held to be chattles and merchandise."

4th That the opinion announced in the Dred Scott case decides that no distinction exists between slaves and descendants of slaves. and other property.

5th. That the constitution of Illinois being a limit of power, not a grant, if the United States Constitution has declared the African race brought to this country as slaves (for none others were brought) to be property, and merchantable chattels, then the Constitution or laws of Illinois can not change that character, such State Constitution being a limit of power, and the State laws being dependent thereon for their validity, and that the constitution of the United States so declares them.

6th. That the defendants being slaves or their descendants, they cannot be held as citizens of Illinois, nor of any of the States, because by the Supreme Law they are chattels, not persons.

7th. That the State laws authorize the conviction of persons only, not property, nor can the warden of any prison hold such property in custody. "If a chattel commit a wrong act, he should be punished as a chattel, and not as a man. The fox that steals property cannot be indicted and punished as a man."

The Court was therefore asked to overrule the demurrer.

His Honor, Judge Wilson, however sustained the demurrer, stating that, "if Chief Justice Taney ever intended, by that decision to make Africans or the descendants of Africans, so far chattels that they may appropriate other people's chattels, by larceny, without being answerable to the laws of this State or the local police regulations, then this Court does not recognize the [illegible] "merchantable chattels" were placed upon trial The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The Robbers' Cave.

It has been known but to a very few persons in this city for some time, that a discovery of great wealth has been made in the interior of Kentucky, on the line of Louisville and Nashville Railroad, by a poor family who formerly lived in this city. The discovery was made by a young man while ploughing in the field, about six months since As he was plowing leisurely along, the earth suddenly gave way under his feet, and he was suddenly precipitated into an immense cavern.—Much injured by the fall, the young man in casting about him for some means wherewith to get out, discovered numbers of iron safes and strong boxes, which upon investigating were found to contain gold and silver coin, jewelry and other valuable to a fabulous amount. The plantation upon which all this treasure was found does not belong to the fortunate discoverers, who only rent the property, and from motives of security they have kept the secret of their good fortune to themselves. An eminent legal gentleman of this city is about interesting himself to secure the fortunate family in the ownership of these great treasures, the result of whose labors, in connection with other particulars, we will give in a few days.—Louisville Dem April 14th.

—A clever hoax, no doubt.

Never Procrastinate.—It is stated that Mr. Andrew Hoover who died so suddenly on Tuesday, left his home in the morning in fine health and spirits, casually remarking to his family that on that day his policy of life insurance would expire His son in the course of the morning took the policy and had it renewed.—In a short time, on that very day, the father was speechless and has departed—His remark and prompt attention has saved a worthy family $5,000—Washington Union April 23.

——Secret Societies of all kinds are said to be increasing in France the aims of which are supposed to be political and their existence is said to be very annoying to the peace of the Emperor Louis Napoleon. The White Murder in Washington County—Clue to the Perpetrators.

The murder at M'Keesport on Thursday last, as will be seen from the subjoined article, taken from the Pittsburgh Dispatch, will, in all probability bring to light the real murderers of Mr White, who was killed in Washington County in March last. We are heartily rejoiced at this, as it will relieve Mrs White of whatever suspicion may have attached to her at the time or since the murder of her husband, of being in any wise implicated in the dreadful affair, which has made her a desolate and bereaved widow while yet in her youth The Dispatch says:

In the statement of Charlotte Jones before Justice Clemens, she charged the murder of Wilson and his sister on her brother and James Williams. This was a mere evasion to shield Fife and Stewart. The two former have not been seen by any one in Washington county or about M'Keesport She knew that they were and are, at a safe distance, and if she could charge them with the present outrage, Fife and Stewart would escape, while the arrest of Williams and her brother would be very doubtful. We have it from creditable authority that the night she was arrested, while her person was being examined, she stated that, prior to the murder of White (which occurred March 30th,) her brother told her he must have money to pay Montgomery and Gibson "to clear him of the poisoning scrape," even if he had to take life for it; that shortly after the murder of White, she met her brother at her father's and he was flush of money—bought dresses and bonnets for his wife; that having heard of White's murder, she charged Williams with it, who at first denied, but afterwards confessed that he and William did it. (This agrees with Mrs. White's statement of the two men seen standing at the wood pile at the back door of her house) She further stated that her brother drew a knife on her and threatened to take her life, if she "peached," or told of it, and that both them (her brother and Williams), threatened her, using precisely the same language and threatening her in the same manner that she falsely alleges in the Clemens statement was used by them on the night of Wilson's murder.

ANOTHER BLOODY MURDER!

Scarcely has the public mind become tranquil after the murder of Samuel H. White, in Washington county, until it is again shocked by another near McKeesport, Allegheny county, which, taking into consideration, the age of the persons murdered, and those who did the deed equals in atrocity and inhumanity, anything that has ever came under our notice.

On Thursday night last Mr. ——Wilson and his sister Mrs. McMasters, an aged couple—the former 81 and the latter 78 years old, and who were residing alone, were murdered in cold blood, as will be seen by the following confession of Charlotte Jones, a niece of the murdered couple, and the reputed wife of the man named Fife, who is said to have formerly been employed in Beaver. On Friday last she was arrested, and on Saturday made the annexed statement.

On Monday last 27th of April, 1857, Fife told me wished to see me on Thursday evening, at the bars above George Wilson's. I asked him what for. He told me that he would tell me when I came. I left Monongahela City on the boat, and got off at Elizabeth, and left there in the afternoon, for the appointed place at dark I waited there until about fifteen minutes after nine o'clock, when Fife came He had a bottle of brandy. Stewart came about about ten o'clock. He also had a bottle of brandy. They were both in liquor. They gave me some brandy. I drank a good deal of it. Monroe Stewart then told me that they wanted me to go to Uncle George's; I asked them what for. They said they wanted his money. I told them I did not want to go, when Monroe Stewart drew a knife and threatened that if I did not, they would kill me. I went with them. Monroe Stewart told me to knock at the door, which I did Uncle George asked me who was there. "Charlotte Jones." He said he would get up and let me in The Monroe Stewart and Henry Fife allowed that they intended to kill them I told them for God's sake not to do it I did not think that they would do it—thought they said it to frighten me. Uncle then opened the door, and I walked in. He said "Good evening," and I walked up to the bed where aunt was lying. I asked her how she was She said not very well—she was sick—Whilst I was talking to aunt, uncle went to the door. Stewart and Fife rushed in. Fife had a knife in his hand and struck him (uncle) in the breast with it. He fell, and never spoke. Stewart took hold of aunt, who cried for God's sake not to kill her—I then told them again not to murder them that way, when they said to "shut up," or they would do the same to me. Stewart first threw her down, and then choked her, and then stamped on her with the heel of his foot on her head. He then called to Henry Fife for his knife, who said it was of no use, it was bent. He then called for a case knife. That not killing her, he ran to the corner of the room and took a poker struck her twice on the head, when I ran out, as I could not stand it any longer.—After I was out in the back yard I heard them breaking open the chest. There was no light but a fire in the fire place I could see uncle and aunt plainly. They were in the house about fifteen minutes I did not go into the house again When they came [illegible] They then made me swear the most awful oaths, that I would not tell. Their hands were bloody. We then started for McKeesport—it was after one o'clock—all three of us together. We arrived at the bank of the Youghiogheny at nearly two o'clock where we all sat down and drank more brandy They showed money to me there; it was all in half dollars. We sat there a very short time, but while there Monroe Stewart threatened me again, that he would kill me if I told on them We then went over the river in a skiff using pieces of boards for oars. We went from the river to the rail road, and walked down the track a short distance. They stopped and caught hold of me, and allowed that they were afraid that I would tell on them, and they again threatened to kill me, when I swore I would never tell on them.

After that Stewart again caught hold of me, when Fife interfered, and said I never would tell. We all then went to Wolf's We got into the house by going up a back alley and into the back door. We went along the entry and up two pair of stairs before we got to the bed room. It was dark, but I think there was three beds in the room, and a man in one of them in the corner. We all lay down in one bed—Stewart and Fife taking off their boots and coats. The man did not speak. We laid over an hour when we all got up together just before daylight. They allowed that they did not want Wolf's family to see me there, and Fife asked Stewart where he would take me. Stewart answered and said—"To Alexander's tavern." We then went down to the well. Stewart drew a bucket of water. They did not wash themselves, for they saw a light up stairs which I saw also. They then hurried me off, and took me within a short distance of Mrs. Alexander's, and showed me the house and left me At this time Stewart gave me one dollar and Fife fifty cents They told me not to go to the tavern until six or seven o'clock, but I went there immediately and knocked when a man put his head out of the window. I asked him if that was a public house. He said it was, and came down, and let me in by the back door—from thence into the dining room. Mrs Alexander's sister came down shortly after. It was then just getting light She allowed it was very early for people to get up—I said, yes, it was sooner than I got up for common. After breakfast I saw Fife I was sitting in the dining room, and he came into the bar room and took a drink I did not speak to him He was in company with a man. I think he was lame. He had sandy whiskers and a cap on. I again saw him in the bar room, but I did not speak to him again.

Charlotte Jones, Henry Fife and Monroe Stewart, are now in jail to await further examination. Traces of blood have been found in the pockets of Fife's pantaloons, as well as in Monroe Stewart's; and also what appears to be blood stains on the dress cape and bonnet of Charlotte Jones.

THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

The Appleton's will probably issue the volume of reports containing the stump speeches on the Dred Scot case next week, Great complaint is made by that portion of the bar who approve and admire the opinions of of Judges McLean and Curtis that the Chief Justice should have withdrawn the opinion which he read in open Court, and which the dissenting Justices refuted in their arguments. It is claimed by the friends of the Chief Justice that people are abusing the decision before they know what it is, and they assert that he has so materially modified his opinion in the revision of it, that it is not the same paper read in Court. This is a most singular and not a creditable proceeding. The opinion of Chief Justice Taney was carefully written out; it was read in a consultation of the Judges; the dissenting Justices replied to its statements and reasoning; and each opinion was then in the due course of judicial proceeding delivered by its author in the court room from his seat on the bench, to a large and deeply interested audience. The Chief Justice permitted a professional stenographic reporter for the Press, to take down the words as they fell from his lips, and all those passages which have excited the attention of the country are literally correct, while the general sketch is accurate. After these formulas, the dissenting Justices and the country had the right to suppose that they had before them the official paper, which was to stand as the judgment of the Court. But it seems that they were mistaken.—For aught the public now know, Chief Justice Taney may have left nothing for his associates or the public to object to.—To have our doubts cleared up, we must all refer to General Howard's book of which, of course, an immense number will be sold.

In the meantime, I presume that the decision of the Court remains unchanged, and that it consists only in the "order" addressed to the District Court of Missouri to dismiss the case for want of jurisdiction, upon the ground that Dred Scot is not a citizen All the buncombe about men being merchandize, the Compromise unconstitutional, &c., will soon be forgotten by the country, and will be henceforth referred to by the legal antiquarian only in illustration of the gross but temporary fanaticism which filled and perverted the public mind on the subject of "niggers," in the year 1857.

And now a serious difficulty arises about poor Dred himself It seems he is absolutely without an owner. It was long ago given up as a question too knotty for decision, whether there could be a Church without a Bishop or a State without a King, but the problem is now presented whether there can be a Slave without a master—for it is currently reported that Dred is running about St Louis complaining that "nobody owns dis ole nigger now." The first effect of the decision has been to emancipate a colored brother who confesses himself unequal to the responsibilities of self-proprietorship.—*Washington Cor. of N. Y. ☞Paris styles of Gents and Boys Clothing carefully transferred from the best French reports of fashion can now be had at Carnaghans near the Post Office Allegheny City. Great care is taken in the manufacture of every article, that Buyers may readily see the peculiar neatness of style, and perfection of workmanship, with which the whole stock is prepared Custom work for men and boy attended to with care.

☞"I can now indulge in the richest food with impunity, whereas, previous to its use, I was obliged to confine myself strictly to the plainest food"

Such is the experience of not only one of our customers, but of hundreds of persons here in Philadelphia, New York, Montreal and Quebec, who have used Berhaves Holland Bitters for Indigestion, Nausea and Acidity of the Stomach.

The Reign of Art.—In this wonderful age, Art lays her master touches on almost every thing. The ceilings over us and the carpets we tread on, are hallowed by Art. Art winds the railway through the mountains and the mud, makes her machines of wood and iron; to act as if with knowledge and annihilates space with lightning tamed down to the tutolage of a boy. Nothing is too lofty for her touch and nothing too humble A new proof of this old conviction, has just fallen under our notice, in the shape of a Cathartic Pill, from the Laboratory of that world renowned Chemist Doct J. C Ayer.

If we understand the subject he has carried that article to the farthest perfection of which it is capable. Instead of employing Drugs in its composition, as we have always thought the necessary and only way, he has with consummate skill extracted the virtues of the medicine to be employed and combined them alone in their purity together The composition is then mixed and rolled by machinery and steam power into a speroid pill which is wrapped in an envelope of gelatine, for protection from the effects of weather or time, and then thickly coated with sugar, to serve as its passport over the palate. Notwithstanding all this labored perfection they are offered to the public at less than one cent each. However humble the department, we think this may be safely characterized as the consumation of Art in its line.—Morning News Baltimore.

☞There are plenty of young gentlemen as well as plenty of old ones. whose beards are turning gray, giving the former a great deal of uneasiness, and exposes the age of the latter. To avoid these little perplexities we advise such of our readers to use Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, which will, in the course of a few weeks, change the hair to its natural color. It does not dye the hair like the most of the hair restoratives, but produces a gradual change of color from the roots of the hair to the final end, and gives it a fine and glossy appearance. We have seen many persons who have used it successfully, and pronounce it the only invention which has come up to their idea of a 'cure for gray heads.' We know several old maids and some young widows, whose locks are just beginning to assume a silvery hue, and who have been talking seriously about resorting to this remedy, and we advise them not to delay any longer. It never fails.—[St. Louis Herald.

☞Sold by Dr. O. Cunningham of Beaver, and Druggists generally.

☞There is an article selling throughout the country that has attained the widest celebrity ever known as a Liver complaint. We have reference to Dr Sanford's Invigorator, or Liver Remedy, that has performed cures almost too great to believe, were it not for the undoubted evidence that accompany the testimonials. Dr. Sanford has been for a long time one of the pertinent physicians of New York, and it is said most of his cases were treated with the Invigorator with such invariable success that he has been induced to offer it as a family medicine, and let the world have the benefit of his discovery. If those who are troubled with debility, head-ache, &c., will try a bottle, they might perhaps save years of suffering.

DR. CALVIN M. FITCH,

Author of the Invalid's Guide and Consumptive's Manual &c., &c.

Will be at the ST. CLAIR HOTEL, Pittsburgh, Penn'a, from

Monday Morning, March 16th, to Saturday Evening, May 16th, 1857,

WHERE he may be consulted daily, Sabbath excepted, for Consumption, Asthma, Chronic Bronchitis, &c. Also for Dyspepsia, Female Diseases, and other affections connected with or predisposing to Consumption.

If, from any cause, DR FITCH should be unable to remain during the whole of the period above named, the appointment will be concluded by his associate, Dr. J. W. SYKES.

Those intending to consult Dr. Fitch are particularly requested to apply as early as possible, for on the occasion of his former visits Dr. Fitch has found it utterly impossible to give all the attention he could have desired to the number who delayed visiting him until the last, and so thronged upon him during the last few days of his appointments.

And Dr. Fitch wishes it furthermore distinctly understood, that although he considers Consumption a curable disease, and treats it as such, still that he does not pretend to raise the dead, nor to cure patients who have neither lungs nor constitution left, and those who wish treatment from him must apply reasonably early in the course of their disease. And he would add, also, that both himself and his associate are accustomed to tell those applying their real situation; nor need any apply who are unprepared or unwilling to learn the truth. A curative treatment will, of course, only be undertaken in cases where there seems some chance of remedy. In cases where there is none, the treatment must of course be merely palliative.

Consultation personally or by letter, free.

June Appointments

DR. H. TUBBS,
Will be at his room, Bridgewater, Lehmer's Hotel, Monday, June 15th, 1857

For consultation upon all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Liver, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys and Spleen; also Dropsy, Gravel, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Debility, Dyspepsia, Female diseases, Ague and Fever, Fits, Impurities of the blood, Eruptions, Cancers, Ulcers, and all other varieties of long standing complaints, both external and internal.

For some ten years Dr. T. has devoted his entire time to chronic diseases, treating thousands annually, many of whom had exhausted every other resource within reach. In no case are mineral or other poisons employed, nor does he make sick to make well, or tear down to built up again. The medicines can be taken with safety by the most delicate, and patiens may remain at home, and continue with prudence their ordinary diet and excercise. Many have recovered under the treatment after friends and physicians had given up all hope, the indisputable evidence of which can always be furnished. Invalids, however reduced or despairing, are invited to call, and may be assured that no encouragement will be given or expense incurred, without a corresponding prospect of recovery.

HEART DISEASE.

Affections of this vital organ being generally thought incurable, we subjoin the following from an old resident of Seneca county, O.

Butternut Ridge, Seneca co., Nov. 1856.

Dr. Tubbs.—Dear Sir:—My son, Simon Jackson, having been restored to health by your treatment, a sense of gratitude to you, as well as a desire to benefit others, make it my duty to certify to yourself and the public generally, that he was afflicted with an acute Rheumatic affection, resulting, after much suffering, in dropsy of the chest and disease of the heart, with violent palpitation. For weeks he was unable to lie down at all, and as everything which had been done for him was of no avail, whatever, we were about despairing entirely of his recovery. But I am happy to say that your remedies and treatment were entirely successful, effecting a radical cure; and there has been no return of that disease up to this time which is now about two years.

I am, very respectfully, your friend and obedient servant, JOSEPH JACKSON.

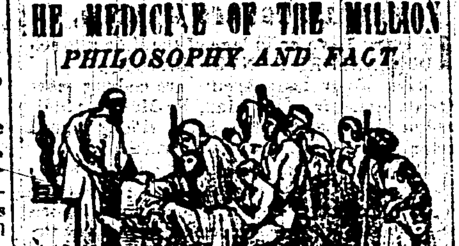
THE MEDICINE OF THE MILLION

PHILOSOPHY AND FACT.



HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

THE EXCITING CAUSE OF SICKNESS.

The blood is the life-sustaining agent. It furnishes the components of flesh, bone, muscle, nerve and integument. The stomach is its manufactory, the veins its distributors, and the intestines the channel through which the waste matter rejected in its productions is expelled. Upon the stomach, the circulation and the bowels, these Pills act simultaneously, relieving indigestion, purifying the fluids, and regulating the excretions.

THE NATIONAL COMPLAINT.

Dyspepsia is the most common disease among all classes in this country. It assumes a thousand shapes, and is the primary source of innumerable dangerous maladies; but whatever its type or symptoms, however obstinate its resistance to ordinary preparations, it yields readily and rapidly to this searching and unerring remedy.

BILIOUS AFFECTIONS.

The quantity and quality of the bile are of vital importance to health. Upon the liver, the gland which secretes this fluid, these Pills operate specifically, infallibly rectifying its irregularities, and effectually curing Jaundice, Bilious Remittants, and all the varieties of disease generated by an unnatural condition of [illegible]

BOWEL COMPLAINTS

Unless the bowels perform their functions properly, the whole body suffers. Tens of thousands die annually of Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Chronic Constipation, and other diseases of these waste pipes of the system. The effect of the Pills upon all intestinal disorders, whether casual or epidemic, is a phenomenon in medicine. By following the printed directions, the most alarming cases of bowel complaint are promptly controlled.

A WORD TO FEMALES.

The local debility and irregularities which are the especial annoyances of the weaker sex, and which, when neglected, always shorten life, are relieved for the time being, and prevented for the time to come, by a course of this mild but thorough alternative.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:

Asthma,	Diarrhœa,	Indigestion,
Bowel Comp'ts,	Dropsy,	Influenza,
Coughs,	Debility,	Inflammation,
Colds	Fever and Ague,	Veneral Affe'n
Chest Diseases,	Female Compl'ts,	Piles,

There is a considerable saving by taking the largest sizes.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

Are of infinite benefit to persons suffering from nervous tremors and general feebleness. They renovate the nervous system, and brace the muscles, as well as give tone to the stomach.—Their Purgative action is unaccompanied by pain, and as they have powerful stomachic as well as aperient and purifying properties, they literally carry on the work of invigorating the digestion, relieving the bowels, and regulating the secretions at one and the same time. This cannot be said of any other medicine in existence.

LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon disordered
STOMACH AND LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve raised up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE!—Whoever expects to find in this a beverage will be disappointed, but to the sick weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

AYER'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases — Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c. &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing any thing hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the many eminent gentlemen who have testified in favor of these Pills, we may mention:

DR. A. A. HAYES, Analytical Chemist, of Boston, and State Assayer of Massachusetts, whose high professional character is endorsed by the HON. EDWARD EVERETT, Senator of the U. S.
ROBERT C. WINTHROP, Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives.
ABBOTT LAWRENCE, Minister Plen. to England.
† JOHN B. FITZPATRICK, Cath. Bishop of Boston.
Also, DR. J. R. CHILTON, Practical Chemist, of New York City, endorsed by HON. W. L. MARCY, Secretary of State.
WM. B. ASTOR, the richest man in America.
S. LELAND & Co., Propr's of the Metropolitan Hotel, and others.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred certificates, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the experience of eminent public men is found in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effects should prove as they have proved more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formulæ by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If, however, there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject freely acknowledge their conviction of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE.

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common pimple.

He has tried it in over 1100 cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of Pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of Biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the Eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and bloches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers,

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure he most desperate case of rheumatism.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of Scrofula.

A benifit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another; after trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appear to me surprising; first that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it and sold about six bottles per day—In April 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the annals of patent medicines was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters.

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—a desease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.

I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in diseases of the Kidneys &c., the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known.

No change of diet ever necessary —eat the best you get and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS—Adults one table spoonful per day —Children over ten years dessert spoonful. Children from five to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day. Manufactured by

FULL OF HOPE TO THE AFFLICTED AND SUFFERING!

Many of the thousand portals of Death may be closed, and life made happier, and more comfortable to thousands who are now in danger. Doubtless this world contains many a balm to soothe its physical woes and cure its diseases. Among those in prominent rank, stands

VEGETABLE COMPOUND,

A SAFE and speedy cure for Consumption, not only in those milder forms of Throat and Lung Diseases, such as colds, coughs, quinsey, difficulty of breathing, bronchitis, Ministers' sore throat, weakness of the chest, asthma, inward ulcer, spitting of blood, influenza, croup, whooping-cough, pain in the breast and side, hoarseness, catarrh and catarrhal affections, inflammation of the lungs, bleeding of the lungs, and such like. But its superior excellence is seen and tested in the more advanced affections of the lungs. For the truth of the above statement and the efficiency of the preparations as an antidote, we refer the public to the following testimonials:

Language is scarcely strong enough to tell the great power of this WONDERFUL DISCOVERY!
The doubting may try and be convinced.

The Proprietors point to the following bona fide certificates with confidence on the community; they are but samples of the many hundreds of testimonials in our possession:

Philadelphia, Aug. 15. 1856.—Last spring, while in Pittsburgh, I had a bad cold and cough, which troubled me much, and a friend of mine gave me a bottle of Bowman's Vegetable Compound for diseases of the throat and lungs, which I commenced taking, and found relief almost immediately. I had taken many things for cough and hoarseness, but never got anything to help me as it has done. I believe it to be the best antidote for coughs and hoarseness that is out, and cheerfully recommend it to the public. THOS. H. STOCKTON.
Pastor 1st Prot Meth. Church.

From Judge Vanhorn, of the District Court at Cincinnatia,

Cincinnati, May 4, 1856.—I have used Bowman's Vegetable Compound for bronchitis and cough, and believe it to be the best medicine out for those diseases, and the only one I ever got to give me any permanent relief. It will cure. I recommend it to the public as an honest and efficient medicine, and will perform what it is published to do. W. VANHORN.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I have used Bowman's Vegetable Compound in my family, for coughs, colds and Ministers' sore throat and believe it to be the best thing that I ever got for those complaints, and cheerfully recommend it to the public.
REV. J. GASTON.
Pastor of the Clinton st. M. E. Church,
June 10, 1855. Cincinnati.

Here is one from the old pioneer Methodist preacher of Ohio, Rev. J. B. Finley.—

I believe Bowman's Vegetable Compound to be the best remedy for Diseased Throat and Lungs, of the day. I have tested it, and found it to be the best of all the popular remedies I ever tried, and I have tried very many. I recommend it to the public. Try it and you will be convinced of its superiority.
Cincinnati July 1856. Rev. J. B. FINLEY.

Hear what the celebrated Dr. Peck says:
New York, May 12, 1856.—I have used Bowman's Vegetable Compound for coughs and hoarseness in speaking; and believe it to be the best preparation for Throat and Lung complaints I ever got; and I recommend it to the public speaker and singer, as well as those afflicted with Lung diseases. J. T. PECK.

Hear what Dr. Benson, of Cincinnati, says:
[Extract from a letter.]
"Bowman's Vegetable Compound contains a virtue which is not possessed by any other popular medicine in my knowledge. It does not only smoothe the disease over, giving it only temporary relief (like most of patented medicines,) but it commences at the root of the disease, and performs a perfect cure.

The names of property holders generally, (including those in the county who subscribe in advance for the Map) are also to be inserted at their respective places, in the style of the Maps exhibited by the canvassers.

Maps of the principal villages will be inserted, on a large scale, in the margin; also engraved views of public and private buildings.

No expense will be spared to execute the Map in the highest style of art. The plan will be plotted on a suitable scale, so as to show distinctly all the particulars above specified, and make a large and ornamental Map. To be engraved and delivered to subscribers, handsomely colored, so as to show the territory comprised in each township, and mounted on rollers. The Map will contain some 14 or 16 square feet.—The Maps are sold only by Subscription and at only one price.

☞No more Maps issued than subscribed for.—The Map will contain tables of the population, productions, assessed value of property, religious societies, schools, number of voters, &c., of each township and village respectively, carefully made up from the latest authentic documents.
